

Mild & Bitter

Keeping Derby CAMRA drinkers informed since 1975

City Brewers Shine at Costa Del Derby Fest

The sun shone and temperatures soared as the City Charter Festival debuted in the Market Place, in a move that was nothing less than transformational. Drinkers flocked to the underused square to take advantage of Mediterranean style weather and a fabulous selection of up to 275 beers. And it wasn't just the 10,227 punters who were smiling as Derby breweries celebrated picking up awards. James Salmon of Brunswick brewery took gold in the Dark Strong Ale category with Black Sabbath, and Derby Brewing Company's Penny's Porter gained bronze in the Porter section. East Midlands' Champion Beer was Bateman's Salem Porter, brewed in Wainfleet, Lincolnshire. More cider than ever was sold. A presentation was made to the 350,000 attendee of the Derby City Charter Festivals and no fewer than 124 new members were recruited to the cause. Derby CAMRA wishes to thank each of the many volunteers who made the festival a stratospheric success, particularly Martyn Reek's cellar team for ensuring good quality beer in the blistering heat. The festival review meeting will be at the Alexandra on Wednesday, 31st July, starting at 730pm, and volunteers can look forward to a day out in Liverpool, the 2008 European Capital of Culture; see page 4 for details. More on the festival on page 2.

Planning Applications

Should you become aware of planning applications in relation to pubs in the Derby area, please could you notify our Pubs' Officer, Stewart Marshall, whose contact details are on page 4. If you are supportive of, or objecting to, the application, please do so as an individual and not as a representative of CAMRA or its policies. Thank you.

More Festival Info

The attendance of 10,227 was up 815 on the 2012 figure. The new innovation of the festival app saw some 500 hits and 150 feedbacks. Unsurprisingly, the hot weather induced greater consumption and the festival committee want to thank the following for extra beer supplies: Falstaff, Dancing Duck, Mr Grundys, Leatherbritches, Babington, Wentwell and Middle Earth. Also, the committee would like to thank The Exeter, Thomas Leaper, Royal Oak (Ockbrook) and Acropolis café for feeding and watering volunteers. The Derby Live team deserve a special mention for their excellent handling of advance ticket sales.

Refurbishment for Morledge Pub

The White Horse is set to undergo a £270k refurbishment with an attractive drinking area outside at the rear, and real ale will once again be given the priority it deserves. The city centre pub has had something of a chequered history with name changes and a knocked through interior. It did, however, enjoy a golden spell in the John Barnes' era of the mid 80s, when, in the editor's opinion, it was Derby's best real ale pub, serving impeccable Ansells' Mild and Ind Coope Draught Burton Ale.

DBC Acquire Kedleston Hotel

Derby Brewing Company, which has rescued a string of pubs in the Derby area, has now acquired the Kedleston Hotel, a fine Georgian building on the edge of Allestree and Quarndon. 5 luxury letting rooms, a restaurant and a classy public bar are planned, and given the Harris' track record it's hard to see the venture being anything other than a resounding success. The £750k facelift should be completed by spring when it will become known as the Kedleston Country House. The Kedleston was a popular haunt in the 70s when it served Draught Bass and Pedigree.

Bell Chimes Again

Older patrons of the Bell and Castle at the town end of Burton Road may cock a snook at the contemporary design and reconfiguration of the newly revamped Georgian inn. There's no doubt, however, that it has style with extensive use of natural materials. The sun soaked garden, too, is a delight and on my visit Muirhouse and Ossett beers were available at the bar at a very reasonable £2.80 a pint. This is no cheap renovation either, as evidenced by the pub's new roof, so let's hope the Bell can find the market it deserves.

GBBF

London Olympia, between 13th and 17th August, is the venue for the 2013 Great British Beer Festival which will feature over 800 ales, ciders and perries.

Fox and Hounds Closes

The Fox and Hounds at Coxbench has closed.

Ashbourne CAMRA Minutes of the Ashbourne CAMRA Sub-Branch

Meeting 25 June 2013 at The Bowling Green, Ashbourne

Present: Mark Grist, Dave Leigh, Michelle Leigh, Hannah Barton, Kevin Woolley, Gareth Butterfield, Richard Bright, Kim Dorrington, Keith Palmer, Pat Laughlin, Diane Grist, Malcolm Philippe. Also In attendance: Colin Wright, Darren Archer of Green Man Restoration Team. Jon Barrs of Ashbourne Town Council. Corin Brown, Chair of the Potteries Branch. Apologies for absence: David Coackley, Phil Lee, Tony Beech, Lizzie Butterfield, Discussion on Planning Application for the Green Man The Chairman thanked

Colin Wright (CW) and his team for attending the meeting. CW explained that the application was for the first phase of the restoration which was largely for change of use of the former bar areas to retail. This phase would fund further stages of the plan which was to create a real ale pub, possibly a micro-brewery, café, imaginative public space use of the courtyard area and the creation of a boutique hotel. Overall the hotel was in a very bad state of repair, including the existing bar areas. Although the building was listed this did not extend to the Johnson and Boswell Bars as previously thought. The floors within the bar areas were in a particularly bad state with many areas rotten. As these overlay deep cellars they were a health and safety concern. While no timing could be given for the overall restoration, as this would be dependent on the delivery and commercial success of Phase 1, the plan was to restore the building to a vibrant multi-use centre which would be an asset to the town. It was noted that the Town Council had given support to the proposal. CAMRA members indicated support for the proposal. Matters Arising from May 2013 Meeting The Minutes had been circulated and were approved. All Matters Arising were covered by the Agenda except Community Assets Process – ongoing. Note: The Cock at Mugginton (closed) is being considered. Chairman's Report CAMRA has now published its future Strategic Plan – summary circulated. Derby Beer Festival seeking volunteer helpers – forms circulated. What Pub app should be available in September 2013. Branch Pub of the Year – only one nomination proposed in the future. Entries have to be made by February 2014. Four global brewing companies are sponsoring a global campaign for beer. CAMRA is involved, although the campaign does not only cover Real Ale. Entries are open for a CAMRA Campaigner of the Year. This is someone who has worked to support pubs and real ale and does not have to be a CAMRA member. All members can nominate. Little Chester Ale Trail trip had taken place including representatives from Derby and Amber Valley. Six pubs visited.

Relationship with

Potteries/Staffordshire Moorlands

Branch Corin Brown reported that the new Staffordshire Moorlands Sub-Branch would cover 143 pubs. Sunday would be the preferred day. Proposed date for walk: Sunday 11 August 2013. Action: Keith Palmer. Action: Chairman. Any Other Business The following were tabled: Atlow Village Beer Festival - 27 June, Atlow Village Hall. Beer Festival at The Talbot, Hilton, 7/8 September 2013.
